

ALARM third sector membership terms and conditions

Membership eligibility

Full membership is available to employees of third sector organisations.

Membership benefits

Benefits cannot be transferred to colleagues within the organisation.

Membership period

The membership year runs twelve months from the date of joining.

Payment of subscriptions

ALARM's payment terms are 21 days from the date of the invoice. Full membership and website access will be granted upon receipt of the membership fee. Membership fees are non-refundable.

Membership renewal

Membership subscriptions are renewed automatically on 1 January unless notification of cancellation is received in writing with four weeks' notice of the renewal date. Failure to notify ALARM of the intention to cease membership within the aforementioned time frame will result in pro-rata membership cancellation charges.

Pro-rata membership cancellation charges

It is the responsibility of the member to cancel ALARM membership in writing four weeks' prior to the renewal date. If written notice is not received, monthly pro-rata charges will be accrued, with a minimum cancellation fee of £50 +VAT, whichever is greater.

Amendments to member contact details

Named members can be replaced without charge once every 12 months as a result of redundancy, maternity leave, leave of absence and organisational restructuring. Replacements are not permitted for the purpose of substitution at the ALARM Conference. Subsequent changes of named members will result in an administration charge £50 +VAT and is at the discretion of ALARM.

Voting rights

ALARM, the Public Risk Management Association is a company limited by guarantee. Voting rights are available to full members only. To apply to become voting member of ALARM, you must agree to be bound by the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the company. In the event of the company's winding up, the maximum liability a voting member will bear in respect of payment of the company's debts will be the sum of £1.

ALARM event cancellation policy

ALARM incurs substantial charges in relation to such events including, amongst others, venue charges, lunch and refreshment charges, administrative and management costs etc. If a member is unable to attend a complimentary event (aside from the Conference, see Conference cancellation policy below) they should provide the ALARM Office with written notice that they are unable to attend not less than seven clear days before the event. If a member fails to give such written notice ALARM will invoice the member the sum of £75 for one day seminars and £100 for ALARM courses to cover, in part, the wasted expenses incurred by ALARM.

Where there is a charge for attendance, payment must be made in advance and no refund will be issued for non-attendance or cancellation. By requesting a place at an event you agree to the terms and conditions set out above.

Conference

Attendance at Conference as a delegate or dinner guest is not included with the discounted third sector membership but can be purchased £100 +VAT.

Accommodation is not included. Names cannot be swapped. Pre-booking is essential and must be received by Friday 31 May 2019, a confirmation of your booking will be sent in return and must be received to secure a place. Bookings after this date may be accepted at the discretion of ALARM but will incur a £100 +VAT administration fee. ALARM takes no responsibility for sessions that are fully booked, bookings are administered on a first come first served basis and early booking is advised to avoid disappointment.

Conference cancellation policy

Refunds are not available. Cancellations must be received in writing ten days before the event, and a receipt of confirmation must be obtained. Cancellations for dinner, delegate places or non-attendance outside of this time will incur a fee of £150.
